Introducing Polaris Locker.

An addition to the Polaris Key Brand Guide, 8 October 2026.

Consumer subbrand

Polaris Locker names the library, discovery and account experience. Its approved identity is A2 Compact Bookends in coral.

Scope

This addendum extends the visual system. It does not rename services, change contracts or replace Pinned K and Star Cut.

Add a consumer identity.

Architecture

Add Polaris Locker / Compact Bookends alongside the existing platform and Delivery identities. Describe it as the consumer-facing product experience, not a backend capability.

Co-branding

Locker owns its app shell and consumer navigation. The customer’s product artwork leads within library cards and product details.

Attribution

Retain the approved Powered by Polaris Key badges for the infrastructure relationship. Available on / Open in Polaris Locker identify a consumer destination only.

Add coral. Keep existing roles.

Locker dark

Accent #ff7869; on-accent #060912. Page #060912; surface #0d111b. White star on dark artwork.

Locker light

Accent #c44438; on-accent #ffffff. Page #f6f8ff; surface #ffffff. Deep coral star and bookends on light artwork.

Unchanged parent rules

Key stays violet; Delivery stays Star Cut. Service colours and gold signing semantics are unchanged. Coral does not replace Distribution green or Update orange.

Typography

Inherit Rubik 400/500/600 and the existing technical counterpoint. Locker wordmarks are supplied as outlines; badge prefixes remain regular weight.

Name the consumer experience.

Customer portal

Apply Locker branding to Library, Discover and Account shell surfaces. Retain edition 04’s artwork-led layout and visible useful actions.

Account and recovery

Use quieter coral emphasis, shared neutral surfaces and explicit action consequences. Preserve product and provider identity where it is required.

Host-owned kits

Do not automatically replace developer product branding or Polaris Key attribution with Locker. Keep supported host customization.

Responsive systems

Use the 16px micro drawing below 24px; master at 24px+. Retain keyboard, controller, zoom, narrow-screen and reduced-motion behaviour.

Use the supplied Bookends master.

Geometry

Three separate shapes; asymmetric bookends; one stationary four-point star. Clear space is one quarter of visible glyph height.

Delivery

Use the outlined lockups, light/dark variants and dedicated micro cut. Mono is one ink. No gradients, signing bit, service recolouring or replacement of the parent master.

Adopt deliberately.

Approved design decision

A2 Compact Bookends and coral selected in this conversation on 19 October 2026. This addendum supplies production artwork and usage rules.

Repository integration

Integrate reviewed assets and scoped Locker tokens into the canonical brand package. This deliverable does not claim that repository adoption has occurred.

Verification

Review actual target applications and native integrations. The pack includes raster size specimens and computed colour-pair ratios; these do not certify a complete application.

Edition handling

Keep edition 04 intact and append these six pages. The combined reference copy includes the unchanged original guide followed by this addendum.
